

Society Representation

The interests of student societies are represented at a number of levels, usually by the Chair of the Societies Council (as a student representative of overall student society activity), and, at times, also by a number of elected Auditors (as student representatives of current student society activities and involvement).

These include committees specific to the work of student societies, and other committees on student activities and student life across the University.

For more information on the election procedures please refer to the Constitution of the UCD Societies Council and other documentation available on ucdsocieties.ie.
